Sermon Notes – Today is the Day!

2 Corinthians 6:1-13

Is Paul a revered spiritual mentor or the judgmental voice of conviction to the Corinthians? Like Paul, Jesus' life showed that He was treated in opposite ways, as Lord or liar depending on the crowd.

 - B. The "how to think about _____" principle.
 - C. The _____ principle
2. Pleading for today (1b-2)

 - B. Living in the power of the _____
 - C. Ripening fields for _____

HUG small group discussion questions:

1. What does it mean to "receive Christ's grace in vain?"
2. Why is today the day of salvation, not tomorrow?
3. Why was Paul not bragging when he spoke so much about his sufferings (vs. 4-6)?
4. What are the weapons that God gives us to use?
5. How could Paul say he possessed everything when he was ministering for Christ?
6. How can you open your hearts to one another?

A church or a business?

Part 1 by Roger Yee, Church Business Administrator

Is Journey a church or a business? We'll try to answer that question a bit later once you know a bit more about what we do in the office?

I just wanted to let you all know a little more about what goes on in the office. You probably know that we take care of reimbursement checks for people who purchase services, supplies, and food for ministry events as well as taking care of facility reservations for private individual or fellowship ministry uses. Beyond that, there's a whole lot more going on in the office as well.

Journey is blessed to have Amy Mu in the office serving as our accounting/finance specialist. She has many years of corporate professional accounting and finance experience serving in the commercial banking sector as well as in the large company private sector. She reconciles expenses, generates the church's monthly financial statements, keeps track of actual expenses vs. budgeted amounts, sets up and maintains an automated bill pay system for many of our utilities and recurring expenses, and generates payments for all of our expenses paid by check or electronic transaction. Amy has utilized her professional experience to make the financial processes in the office much more efficient and streamlined.

With Amy's skills, expertise, and heart for family, service and God is just Part 1 of how we help keep the lights on at Journey. Part 2 to follow next week.

After service, please stay for refreshments and fellowship.
