Reflection & Discussion

1. How is singing to the Lord a reflection of what is in your heart?
2. In what ways have you seen God's creation with awe and wonder?
3. Why does worship and service go together? How can you serve the Lord more?

Q. How do we know if Peter was a rich fisherman?

CFP Appreciation

Article by Phil Jen Kin

As an Elder, I want to take this time in this bulletin to spread a little love to a specific ministry, and the personnel in it. You can't help but notice some of the dramatic physical changes to our church and campus over the last couple of years.

Most notable is the removal of the pathetic aging trailers, and the now well manicured, and green lawns. Our foyer has undergone a remodel with the joint effort of Jewels (elders wives) and CFP, and it looks beautiful. Three metal round picnic tables, sun umbrellas, and two metal benches have been recently placed in our refreshment area. With our summer heat, this furniture has been welcomed by our church members. They are so popular that we may have to start issuing "permits". Lol!

There have been many other additions and improvements such as keyless locks on strategic gates, and doors. The parking lot was in terrible condition. We were down to gravel in many areas. The resurfacing company will be coming out one more time to do another top coat and sealer which will prevent sprinkler water from staining the black surface. Those that need to enter the parking lot when locked now can use a keyless entry pad to enter and exit.

I wanted to highlight and give attention and thanks to our CFP team. Dan Liu, Dave McClendon, Bill Wong and myself comprise the team. Collectively, each week we strive to devote at least a couple of hours to work on various campus improvements. My greatest shoutout needs to go to Bill Wong. Bill never wants to "toot his horn" about all he does for our campus. His knowledge and experience is unlimited.

Thank you Bill from our entire congregation!

- Phil Jen Kin, elder

After service, please stay for refreshments and fellowship.
